

MILLER COAL PLAN BILL PASSES TO-DAY; FUEL DICTATOR BEFORE END OF WEEK

Interborough will be well taken care of," interrupted Democratic Senator Downing. "Don't you know that E. J. Berwind is a director of the Interborough and is also a big coal operator? Don't you know he sells coal to the Interborough and that he has the situation in his hands and that both hands are closed over it?"

"I do know that Berwind is a director of the Interborough and is a coal operator," replied Senator Walker. "I do know that he sells coal by the wholesale to the Interborough at retail prices."

"But Berwind won't worry about the freezing people of New York next winter. He will go South."

Before the Legislature met to-day to pass the State Fuel Administration bill, Gov. Miller announced that he intended to sign the measure as soon as the engrossed copy reaches him, which will be within twenty-four hours.

The Governor has a prominent man in mind for the office of Fuel Administrator and expects to name him this week. Therefore, the sweeping powers of a coal dictator will be in force before Sunday.

Upon learning that Senator Lockwood and other New York City Legislators were prepared to back up the Hyman fuel purchasing and distributing plans, Gov. Miller made it quite clear that he as the real leader of both law making houses will not stand for any amendments to the original Republican Administration bill, introduced last night, and which will be passed before the end of today's session, unless something unforeseen occurs.

"You can see what would happen if there were fifty-nine competing State agencies," said the Governor. "What we aim to accomplish," he continued, "is to prevent unrestricted harmful competition."

The Governor was asked where the fuel dictator would have his central office. He said he was under the impression that the legislation provided it would be in New York. However, there is no legislative provision to this effect. The Governor added that the administrator would likely select his own headquarters.

There was an impression here that the Governor's message might be interpreted as a criticism of the Harding Administration for its failure to act earlier on the fuel situation. The Governor denied this intent with emphasis.

"I'm not criticizing the national Administration and would not dream of doing such a thing," he said. Senator Charles C. Lockwood of New York City, although a Republican, declares the Administration fuel emergency measures should have been amended to permit New York City to handle its own coal shortage.

"Coal shortage hits New York City harder than any part of the State," said Senator Lockwood. "Some of the

ARREST FOUR, SEIZE BOOZE AND LABELS

Made Cheap Brands Look Like Good. Is Charge.

Detectives Plague and Yost, on the staff of Fifth Deputy Police Commissioner Gillespie, were sauntering along Third Avenue shortly after noon to-day when the former gazed absently into a tailor shop at No. 1122. The detective spied a case labelled "Gordon Gin" and his gaze ceased to be absent.

The two stood in a nearby doorway and, they charge, saw four men loading an automobile which stood at the curb with liquor. They arrested the four and seized what they say was liquor valued at more than $1,000, the automobile and a large quantity of labels and other paraphernalia. The detectives say the four were using labels of well known brands of liquor on cheaper fluids.

Taken to the East Sixty-seventh Street Station, the four described themselves as Alexander Horowitz, twenty-six, No. 42 West 117th Street; his brother, Matthew, of the same address, who own the tailor shop, No. 1122 East 75th Street, and Abraham Bock, forty-one, No. 1443 Seagirt Avenue, Far Rockaway, an uncle of the Horowitzes.

They will be arraigned in Yorkville Court to-morrow.

DISABLED WAR VETERANS HAVE OUTING AT CONEY

Acting Mayor Hubert Addresses 150 at City Hall.

Under the auspices of the Bartol-Fritchard Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, 150 disabled soldiers from hospitals in Manhattan and Brooklyn went to Coney Island to-day for an outing.

Motor buses stopped at City Hall, en route to Coney, where there was a band concert. State Commander James F. Kiernan introduced Acting Mayor Hubert. He addressed the wounded men. The veterans spent the afternoon at Brighton Beach. This evening they will dine at Luna Park and enjoy the amusements until 10 o'clock.

HYLAN MEASURES FOR COAL AND BUSES DIE IN LEGISLATURE

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

ALBANY, Aug. 29.—The Republican Legislature early to-day buried without ceremony Mayor Hyman's $25,000,000 municipal bus plan. The same law makers likewise killed the bill, also a Hyman Administration measure, which would have permitted the Tammany Boards of Aldermen and Estimate to spend each year $2,000,000 more than they have been permitted to spend in the past through the issue of special revenue bonds.

This means that Tammany henchmen who have been profiting through "without public bidding emergencies," which do away with the necessity of competitive bidding, will be deprived of any prospect of what has been regarded as a golden harvest.

To practical Tammany men the defeat of the special revenue bond "expansion bill" is a harder blow than any prospect of a coal shortage could mean to the humblest housewife.

The third and last blow given the Hyman Administration by the Republican Legislature was the annihilation of the measure which would have given the Tammany boards the right to purchase fuel for the "needy" and distribute at cost "after necessary expenses have been paid." It is understood that the legislators had the O'Malley legion of pushcart market supervisors in mind when they dropped the Hyman fuel measure into the waste basket.

The Legislature, called in extraordinary session by Gov. Miller to consider the coal question, took this action on the Hyman legislation simply because it did not believe it was sincere. It concluded that the Tammany organization, seizing upon Gov. Miller's efforts to prevent what threatens to be a calamity this winter because of fuel shortage, have put forward motor bus bills and other measures at this time knowing they would not be passed, but feeling certain that they would have political effect.

Beside Gov. Miller's legislation, which will be finally passed before to-night, unless there are unforeseen developments, the Hyman legislative programme is regarded here as pie-in-the-sky politics and is not taken seriously.
